

RE: IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT YOUR RURAL TELEPHONE/NEX-TECH ACCOUNT (Residential)

CPNI is a communications industry abbreviation that stands for Customer Proprietary Network Information. CPNI refers to your telephone service, including the charges on your bill; the services you subscribe to; and your usage data and calling patterns. In short, it is your private information about your communication services.

The Federal Communications Commission (FCC) has mandated new CPNI ‘must comply’ rules for all telecommunications companies. The new rules are designed to safeguard your information from anyone who is not authorized to have access to your account. The new rules are effective December 8, 2007.

To comply with these new rules, there are four security measures that Rural Telephone/Nex-Tech will be implementing to ensure your information is safeguarded from unauthorized access.

1. Each time you call Rural Telephone/Nex-Tech to speak with a customer service representative regarding your account, we will be required to ask a verification question, and you will be required to provide an appropriate answer to the question to ensure we are speaking with an authorized contact on your account.
2. Once authorization has been established, we can discuss information about specific calls that you have made after you provide the date of call, length of call and call destination. If you are unable to provide specific details, we can send a copy of this information to the account address on record.
3. If you stop by any Rural Telephone/Nex-Tech office to make account inquiries, you may be required to show personal photo identification before we can discuss or release any account information.
4. You may add up to four authorized contacts by completing and returning this letter. In order to protect your information, only these authorized contacts will be allowed to make inquiries or changes to your account. Inquiries or requests from other parties, including those of a spouse, cannot be honored if they are not an authorized contact or listed on the account. If you are uncertain who is an authorized contact on your account, please contact your local office for clarification.

Please take a few minutes to complete the questions below and return the form in the envelope provided.

Thank you for taking the time to assist in the implementation of these important security measures. Together, we will continue to keep your Rural Telephone/Nex-Tech account information safe and secure.
