What is Lifeline?
Every person in America should have access to quality, affordable telecommunications service. The goal of “Universal Service” was codified by federal government in 1934, then reaffirmed in 1996 by the establishment of policies for the “preservation and advancement of Universal Service.”

To achieve the Universal Service goal, carriers have access to a fund that is generated by contributions from the telecommunications providers in the United States. Funds are drawn to provide discounts to eligible low-income consumers to help them establish and maintain phone and Internet service.

What Discounts Are Available?
Lifeline assistance lowers the cost of basic monthly local phone service or Internet service. Eligible consumers can receive monthly discounts of up to $17.02 on phone service and up to $9.25 on Internet service. Please visit a Nex-Tech store to see what discounts are available in your area.

Internet services must have a minimum download speed of 18 mbps and a minimum upload speed of 2 mbps.

Toll Limitation Service (TLS) support allows eligible consumers who wish to avoid incurring large long distance fees to choose toll blocking or toll control at no cost.
An individual is eligible if he or she participates in one of the following programs:

1. Supplemental Security Income (SSI)
2. Medicaid
3. Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP)
4. Federal Public Housing Assistance (FPHA)
5. Veteran’s Pension Benefit

The participant is required to provide documentation of participation in one of the above programs to the provider, and to complete the Lifeline Certification Form.

Also, a consumer may be eligible if his or her household income is at or below 135% of the federal poverty level. A consumer must provide THREE CONSECUTIVE MONTHS of bank income statements as documentation of income (statements should include all adult household members), or provide a copy of their household’s tax return for the previous year.

The Lifeline Service Program includes income-based eligibility criteria. These criteria are based on the poverty guidelines updated periodically in the Federal Register by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) under authority of 42 U.S.C. §9902(2). Customers eligible under the Lifeline criteria are required to self-certify such eligibility.
